The competition in Pilsen

The international teams made up of the students from different countries tried to find some historical buildings in the city centre. Then they stuck the small pictures of them into the map. The best teams got a sweet award at the final dinner.